

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

ROBIN COLLYMORE,

Plaintiff,

-against-

CITY OF NEW YORK; LISA MALUF; MATTHEW
AUSTIN; and DAVID KIRKS in their individual capacities and as aiders and abettors.

Defendant.

INDEX NO.:

COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMAND

Plaintiff ROBIN COLLYMORE (“COLLYMORE” OR “PLAINTIFF”), by and through her attorney, Special Hagan, Esq., complains of Defendants City of New York (“City”), Matthew Austin (“AUSTIN”), David Kirks (“KIRKS”), and Lisa Maluf (“MALUF”) as follows:

I. INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

1. This is an action for discrimination based on race, gender, hostile work environment, cronyism and retaliation. Plaintiff, a 54 year old African American woman, worked as a Project Manager for the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications’ (“DoITT”) Emergency Communications Transformation Program (“ECTP”). Initially, Plaintiff experienced unwanted touching and physical contact from her manager Lisa Maluf. Plaintiff complained in multiple fora: DoITT’s EEO Office, KIRKS, Labor Relations, her union representative and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC”). In each instance, nothing was done to stop MALUF’s behavior and in the wake of her complaints her environment became rife with retaliation, hostility discrimination and abuse
2. Plaintiff also experienced retaliation when she complained of unethical and or corrupt conduct to then Deputy/Associate Commissioner, David Kirks. Plaintiff's unit, the Emergency Communications Transformation Program ("ECTP") was under ongoing monitoring from the Department of Investigation ("DOI"). A number of widely publicized scandals and the failure to complete two Public Safety Answering Centers ("PSAC") on scheduled and within budget, prompted Mayor DeBlasio to order an investigation of the ECTP.

3. As such, throughout Plaintiff's employ at DoITT, periodically, DOI would request documents and engage ECTP staff. In the midst of DOI's ongoing monitoring efforts, in or about December 2015, AUSTIN verbally instructed Plaintiff and staff to hide documents from DOI. Plaintiff was concerned and initially reported AUSTIN to Myles Driscoll ("DRISCOLL"), Director of the agency's Office of Labor Relations and Discipline; Plaintiff also initially complained to her union representative. In response to her complaints to the aforementioned, in both instances, she was either ignored or told that she was mistaken. However, in the wake of these complaints about AUSTIN, she experienced even more harassment and retaliation from AUSTIN and MALUF.
4. From January 2016 to June 2016, Plaintiff's work environment became even more hostile, discriminatory and retaliatory. Due to the stress and abuse at the job, Plaintiff began to experience increased numbers of migraine headaches and began to miss more and more days from work. During the aforementioned period, Plaintiff filed a formal charge with the EEOC, the agency's EEO Office and finally KIRKS.
5. On June 22, 2016, as a last resort, Plaintiff complained to KIRKS due to the ongoing violations of her civil rights, the pressure to hide information from DOI and her deteriorating health. Plaintiff told KIRKS about MALUF and AUSTIN and the violations of the CITY's EEO Policy. She also told KIRKS about AUSTIN's directive to hide documents from DOI. In the latter instance, from KIRKS's expression, it was clear he knew about AUSTIN's directive –as such, he did nothing.

6. Within days of her complaint to KIRKS, AUSTIN intensified his behavior. It was apparent from AUSTIN's increased and continued misconduct, and KIRKS' failure to act that he tacitly approved of not only the violation of the City's EEO Policy, but AUSTIN's instructions to hide documents from DOI. It was at this point that Plaintiff realized she worked in an environment rife with discrimination, retaliation and cronyism. Therefore, on June 28, 2016 six days after her complaint to KIRKS about discrimination, retaliation and corruption, COLLYMORE was constructively discharged and resigned. COLLYMORE resigned not only to avoid any possible implication in KIRKS's scheme to hide documents from DOI, she also resigned to preserve her health. Within four months of her resignation from DoITT, Plaintiff discovered that she had a brain aneurysm.
7. Plaintiff alleges that she experienced a continuing violation of her rights under the law and was thereby constructively discharged. Plaintiff thereby brings this action because the terms, conditions, and privileges of her employment relationship with Defendants have been adversely affected under: the First and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution; Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et. seq. ("Title VII"); 42 U.S.C. §§ 1981 and 1983; the New York State Human Rights Law, Executive Law § 296 et. seq. (the "Executive Law"); and the Administrative Code of the City of New York, § 8-107 et. seq. (the "City Law").
8. Accordingly, Plaintiff seeks declaratory judgment, compensatory and punitive damages, as well as any other appropriate relief.

II. JURISDICTION & VENUE

9. This Court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1343 to secure protection of and to redress the deprivation of rights secured by 42 U.S.C. §§ 1981, 2000e.
10. This Court has supplemental and pendant jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a) over the Plaintiff's state and city law claims arising under the New York State Executive Law and the New York City Administrative Code respectively, because the Plaintiff's federal, state and city claims derive from a common nucleus of operative facts and form part of the same case and controversy.
11. Venue is proper under 28 U.S.C §§1391(b)(1) and (c) because: Defendants maintain offices and conduct business in this district and Plaintiff resides in the Southern District of New York.
12. Plaintiff's action for declaratory relief is authorized by 28 U.S.C. §§ 1343, 2201 and 2202.

III. PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS

13. Pursuant to § 8-502(c) of the City Law, COLLYMORE served a copy of this complaint on the New York City Commission of Human Rights and the Corporation Counsel of the City of New York.
14. COLLYMORE filed a charge of discrimination with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission ("EEOC") on or about July 5, 2016 (EEOC Charge No. 520-2016-02845). On or about July 25, 2016, a "Notice of Rights" was issued by the EEOC. COLLYMORE initiated this lawsuit on October 23, 2016, and has thereby fully complied with the administrative prerequisites.

IV. PARTIES

15. COLLYMORE is a resident of New York County, New York.

16. COLLYMORE is an African American woman.
17. Plaintiff worked at DoITT as a Project Manager for the Emergency Communications Transformation Program (“ECTP”) from August 3, 2015 to June 28, 2016 when she was constructively discharged and resigned.
18. Defendant City of New York (“CITY”) is a municipal corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the law of the State of New York, and at all times relevant was Plaintiff’s employer.
19. Under the Charter of the City of New York, the CITY is the municipal agency charged with the responsibility for its duly organized and created departments, including the Department of Information Technology and Telecommunications (“DoITT”) and the CITY’s agents, servants, and employees who work for DoITT.
20. The CITY is an employer as well as a public employer and state actor within the meaning of federal, state and city statutes, including but not limited to Title VII, Sections 1981 and 1983, the New York Executive Law, the New York Civil Service Law, and the New York City Administrative Code.
21. Defendant CITY/DoITT is and was a municipal agency created and authorized under the laws of the City of New York. Accordingly, DoITT provides infrastructure and telecommunications (IT) services to New York City’s agencies, boards, offices, residents, businesses and visitors.
22. As a City agency, DoITT is an employer as well as a public employer and state actor within the meaning of the applicable federal, state and city statutes, including but not limited to Title VII, Sections 1981 and 1983, the New York Executive Law, the New York Civil Service Law and the New York City Administrative Code.

23. At all times relevant, COLLYMORE was CITY's/DoITT's "employee" within the meaning of all applicable federal, state and city statutes.
24. At all times relevant hereto, Defendant David Kirks("KIRKS") was employed by CITY and DoITT. For all times relevant, KIRKS was Plaintiff's indirect supervisor. For all times relevant, KIRKS served as Associate Commissioner and Director of ECTP for DoITT.
25. KIRKS has substantial policy making authority as defined by the New York City Charter; and has the ability to make personnel decisions and disciplinary decisions. In his capacity, KIRKS was also the final decision-maker when it came to disciplinary and training matters in the unit; all managers who sought to discipline staff also had to obtain KIRKS's approval. KIRKS is sued here in both his individual and official capacities.
26. At all times relevant hereto, KIRKS: actively and directly participated in the unlawful discriminatory and retaliatory conduct directed at Plaintiff; failed to ensure that non-discriminatory working conditions were provided; and or ratified or condoned the conduct alleged herein.
27. Upon information and belief KIRKS has an annual salary of approximately $189,614 and has been promoted to Deputy Commissioner despite the fact that Public Safety Answering Center 2 (PSAC-2) is not fully operational (i.e. "gone-live").
28. KIRKS is a Caucasian male, is sued in his individual and official capacities; he is also being sued as an aider and abettor.
29. At all times relevant hereto, Defendant Matthew Austin ("AUSTIN") was employed by CITY and DoITT. For all times relevant, AUSTIN was Plaintiff's direct supervisor. For all times relevant, AUSTIN served as Director of ECTP Project Management at DoITT/CITY.
30. AUSTIN has substantial policy making authority as defined by the New York City Charter; and AUSTIN also has the ability to make personnel decisions. AUSTIN is sued here in both his individual and official capacities.

31. At all times relevant hereto, AUSTIN: actively and directly participated in the unlawful discriminatory and retaliatory conduct directed at Plaintiff; failed to ensure that non-discriminatory working conditions were provided; and or ratified or condoned the conduct alleged herein.
32. Upon information and belief AUSTIN has an annual salary of approximately $157,190. Upon information and belief, AUSTIN has three degrees Full Sail University, an institution that issues online degrees.
33. AUSTIN, a Caucasian male, is sued in his individual and official capacities; he is also being sued as an aider and abettor.
34. At all times relevant hereto, Defendant Lisa Maluf (“MALUF”) was employed by CITY and DoITT. For all times relevant, MALUF was Plaintiff’s indirect supervisor. For all times relevant, MALUF served as Deputy Program Manager for the ECTP at DoITT.
35. MALUF has substantial policy making authority as defined by the New York City Charter; and has the ability to make personnel decisions. In her capacity, MALUF was also the final decision-maker when it came to disciplinary and training matters in the unit; all managers who sought to discipline staff had to obtain MALUF’s approval. MALUF is sued here in both her individual and official capacities.
36. At all times relevant hereto, MALUF: actively and directly participated in the unlawful discriminatory and retaliatory conduct directed at Plaintiff; failed to ensure that non-discriminatory working conditions were provided; and or ratified or condoned the conduct alleged herein.

37. Upon information and belief MALUF has an annual salary of approximately $161,154. Upon information and belief, MALUF has been a Chief of Staff and President of a Business Improvement District prior to her work at DoITT, which started in April 2010.
38. MALUF, a Caucasian female, is sued in her individual and official capacities; she is also being sued as an aider and abettor.
39. At all times relevant, Defendants acted under color of the statutes, ordinances, regulations, customs and usages of the Constitutions of the United States and New York; Defendants also acted under the authority of their respective positions or offices.

V. FACTS

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

40. COLLYMORE is a Certified Project Manager with over 25 years of experience in the private sector.
41. Prior to working for CITY/DoITT, COLLYMORE had a distinguished career at American Express (“AMEX”), where she was promoted in salary and title on at least five occasions.
42. Plaintiff learned of DoITT upon her departure from AMEX. Around that time, she read about the ECTP, which had been plagued by years of scandal, cost overruns and a failure to deliver the PSAC-2, a second Public Safety Answering Center to be located in the Bronx.
43. After an initial failed attempt to modernize the City’s emergency response systems in the 1990s, the Bloomberg administration implemented the Emergency Communications Transformation Program (“ECTP”) in 2004.
44. ECTP’s primary goals were: to integrate the emergency response functions of the three agencies (NYPD, FDNY/EMS) into a single facility at a renovated Public Safety Answering Center (PSAC), PSAC-1; create PSAC-2, a second facility that would serve as a backup in the event of an emergency or disruption of service at PSAC-1; modernize the E911 telecommunications network; and implement a new Computer Aided Dispatch (“CAD”) system for the NYPD, FDNY and the FDNY’s Emergency Medical Services Division (“EMS”).

45. In 2004, the Bloomberg administration projected that the ECTP would accomplish its objectives within 5 years with a budget of $1.3 billion. However, a series of scandals that involved Hewlett Packard, the vendor responsible for building PSAC-1, mismanagement and cronyism all contributed to a failure to complete PSAC-2 or any of the other goals enumerated in ECTP’s mandate.
46. After numerous newspaper articles that detailed corruption, mismanagement and cost overruns involving the ECTP, in March 2012, Comptroller John Liu conducted an audit of the program.
47. Comptroller Liu’s audit resulted in three findings, all of which DoITT agreed were correct and vowed to address. Chief amongst those findings was that, “DoITT should increase its efforts to fill open positions with appropriately qualified personnel to ensure that the ECTP has sufficient resources required for the ongoing monitoring and management of the ECTP.”
48. Nevertheless, despite these findings, DoITT continued to engage in cronyism and continued to maintain its management structure beneath the Commissioner level.
49. Despite a failure to produce a fully operational PSAC-2, the CITY allowed MALUF and other highly paid, politically connected Caucasian employees to remain in place with very limited to no project management and or emergency response experience.
50. On May 19, 2014 Mayor DeBlasio ordered a halt to work on the City’s ECTP, pending a comprehensive investigation and review by the City’s Department of Investigation (“DOI”) and the new City Comptroller. In an effort to address the findings, DoITT began to aggressively hire employees to fill vacancies within the unit.

51. Since COLLYMORE was no longer at AMEX and had been following what was going on with ECTP, she saw an opportunity to join what she believed would be a team of skilled professionals. She believed that ECTP would be an excellent opportunity to further her extensive experience in risk and project management in the public sector; COLLYMORE believed she could be an asset to the team and sought a position within the unit.

52. COLLYMORE started work at DoITT/CITY on August 3, 2015 at a salary of 112,000.

53. COLLYMORE was a provisional employee, and had the Civil Service Title of Computer Software Specialist.

54. Plaintiff's functional/office title was Training Project Manager.

55. As an ECTP Training Project Manager, COLLYMORE performed a number of functions in Project, Agency Relationship and vendor management.

56. In their transition to a singular emergency response system, NYPD, FDNY/EMS would engage a number of vendors and would require training in a number of platforms.

Accordingly, as Project Manager for training, COLLYMORE would engage the various stakeholders, take their complaints and engage in any other quality or project management necessary consistent with the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) and DoITT's published project management methodologies.

57. In the beginning, Plaintiff was excited about her job; COLLYMORE eagerly engaged management and key stakeholders. However, Plaintiff's feelings towards her job began to change within the first month.

MALUF'S Unwanted Touching/Sexual Harassment

58. MALUF was Plaintiff's second line supervisor, MALUF was Deputy Program Manager of the ECTP, and regularly engaged Plaintiff at the inception of her employment.
59. COLLYMORE would have one on one meetings with MALUF, where MALUF would insist upon invading Plaintiff's "personal space." At any given time MALUF would: touch and rub Plaintiff's arm, pat Plaintiff's leg, rest her arm on COLLYMORE's back and or grab her hands and legs. And this would happen repeatedly over a period of time.
60. Initially, COLLYMORE would position herself so that MALUF wouldn't touch her. Plaintiff would also put objects and furniture to impede MALUF's ability to contact her; Plaintiff would also physically distance herself from MALUF –all to no avail. MALUF would simply re-position herself and would proceed to grab and touch Plaintiff.
61. In or around September 2015, Plaintiff told MALUF that she did not like being touched.
62. Despite Plaintiff's initial complaint, MALUF ignored Plaintiff and continued to touch her.
63. COLLYMORE then began to complain to other staff about MALUF's touching. At which point, she learned that MALUF regularly touched people the same way, and that a number of employees complained about MALUF's touching –again to no avail.
64. Immediately thereafter COLLYMORE's work environment became hostile. Her blood pressure increased, she began to experience migraines and she began to miss work.
65. After Plaintiff complained about MALUF to the agency's EEO Office and agency management, COLLYMORE's immediate supervisor, Matthew Austin, also began to retaliate and discriminate against her.
66. At this time MALUF and AUSTIN became aware of Plaintiff's migraines. MALUF and AUSTIN also knew that Plaintiff had to eat lunch at a prescribed time to avoid migraines. However, MALUF and AUSTIN would insist that Plaintiff work through lunch when they had meetings; they would also insist that Plaintiff schedule meetings during her lunch hour if necessary. In those instances, Plaintiff complied, however she also developed migraines and subsequently missed days from work.

AUSTIN's Disparate Treatment, Harassment and Abuse

67. AUSTIN began to have one on one's with COLLYMORE instead of MALUF, after her initial complaints about MALUF's unwanted touchings.

68. AUSTIN became more hostile and nasty towards COLLYMORE after she complained about MALUF.

69. Due to increased contact with AUSTIN, it became clear that he treated COLLYMORE differently from other Caucasians within ECTP. AUSTIN and MALUF would permit Caucasian employees to work overtime without prior requests, both prior to and after the implementation of the unit's Overtime policy.

70. However, unlike the Caucasians in the unit, MALUF and AUSTIN would either chastise COLLYMORE about her requests for overtime or deny them altogether; even when her work required that she work outside of her scheduled hours.

71. Immediately after her sexual harassment complaint, MALUF and AUSTIN intentionally changed COLLYMORE's hours to avoid paying her overtime.

72. Plaintiff went from working from 8AM to 4PM to 9AM to 5PM even though she would sometimes be required to come in before 8AM and or stay beyond 5PM.

73. In several instances, Plaintiff was required to come into work before her scheduled shift, specifically to provide access to vendors who were providing training. Plaintiff would request overtime in those instances and she was either chastised and or denied by MALUF and or AUSTIN.

74. Again, when Caucasian employees managed by AUSTIN and MALUF were required to work outside of their scheduled shifts, and sought overtime they were approved even without submission of prior requests.
75. The animosity between AUSTIN, MALUF and COLLYMORE became so intense that in December 2015, AUSTIN yelled at Plaintiff in their one-on-one meeting.
76. In or about January 2016, Plaintiff continued to experience migraines and missed work. At which point she removed herself from projects that she volunteered on above and beyond her tasks and standards. When AUSTIN found out that she had removed herself, he yelled at her in front of other staff again.
77. On both occasions, AUSTIN was in clear violation of the Agency's Code of Conduct. As such, she complained to KIRKS about the incident that January, she also complained to KIRKS about AUSTIN's discriminatory conduct.
78. COLLYMORE also complained to the agency's Director of Labor Relations and Discipline, Myles Driscoll (DRISCOLL).
79. KIRKS failed to adhere to the CITY's EEO policy and failed to take any further steps regarding Plaintiff's complaint of discrimination.
80. Additionally, despite witnesses, DRISCOLL failed to find that AUSTIN violated the agency's code of conduct when he yelled at her on at least two occasions.
81. After ongoing harassment, abuse and disparate treatment from AUSTIN and MALUF Plaintiff filed her first charge of discrimination and retaliation with the EEOC.

Retaliation: DEFENDANTS Retaliate Against Plaintiff for Complaining about Discrimination

82. Plaintiff complained about sexual harassment to MALUF and agency staff in or about September 2015.

83. In November 2015, AUSTIN yells at Plaintiff during a 1 on 1.
84. In or around November 2015, AUSTIN and MALUF change Plaintiff's shift so that she cannot request overtime.
85. Upon information and belief, AUSTIN and MALUF do not change anyone else's hours.
86. Upon information and belief, AUSTIN and MALUF do not deny any Caucasian employees overtime at this juncture.
87. On January 1, 2016 AUSTIN writes Plaintiff up for violation of the agency's Code of Conduct.
88. Towards the end of January 2016, Plaintiff filed a charge of discrimination with the EEOC.
89. Within days of her EEOC filing, AUSTIN yells at Plaintiff in front of another staff person.
90. Plaintiff files a second EEOC charge in April 2016.
91. Within weeks of her complaint to MALUF, MALUF yells at COLLYMORE for completing her work early.
92. Between April and June 2016 both MALUF and AUSTIN would continue to harass Plaintiff. Both MALUF and AUSTIN would engage in nasty email exchanges with Plaintiff. Both MALUF and AUSTIN would insist that Plaintiff work outside of her work hours without compensation.
93. On June 22, 2016, Plaintiff complained to KIRKS about a number of things including discrimination

First Amendment Retaliation for Reporting AUSTIN's Instructions to Hide Information about ECTP on the J:Drive

94. On or about December 7, 2015 AUSTIN conducted a meeting with Plaintiff and approximately 15 other people.
95. At that meeting, in clear violation of the Code of Conduct, AUSTIN instructed staff to hide information about the ECTP, PSAC-1, PSAC-2 and Fire Department Computer Aided Dispatch (FDCAD) initiatives from DOI during an ongoing investigation. At that meeting, AUSTIN told staff to put documents in the J: Drive since DOI had already searched that drive and would not search it again.

96. Plaintiff initially complained about the possible ethics and code of conduct violations to her union representative Mike Lanni. She then complained to Emily Johnson ("JOHNSON"), DRISCOLL and DC 37 on or about January 15, 2016.

97. Despite being tasked with enforcing the Agency's Code of Conduct and ethics, neither JOHNSON nor DRISCOLL took any steps to address Plaintiff's written complaint.

98. From February 2016 to June 2016, MALUF and AUSTIN continued to harass and discriminate against Plaintiff.

99. MALUF and AUSTIN sought to bring her up on disciplinary charges after she reported AUSTIN to her union representative and DOITT management.

100. MALUF and AUSTIN denied her training opportunities both internally and externally, unlike the Caucasian staff within the unit.

101. Since Plaintiff feared additional retaliation, she refrained from raising the issue again until June 22, 2016.

102. However, after months of abuse from AUSTIN and MALUF, again as a last resort she complained to KIRKS about discrimination, retaliation and now AUSTIN's instruction to hide documents from DOI.

103. COLLYMORE observed from KIRKS's reaction that he already knew about AUSTIN's instructions to staff, she also sensed at that juncture that KIRKS had instructed AUSTIN to tell staff to hide documents from DOI.

104. Upon information and belief KIRKS took no action to address Plaintiff's complaints between June 22nd and June 28th.
105. Within days of this last complaint to KIRKS, AUSTIN continued to harass COLLYMORE.
106. On June 24th and 28th, 2016, Plaintiff was required to work beyond her scheduled shift and despite adherence to the agency's overtime policy, AUSTIN and MALUF denied her request.
107. Accordingly, when it became apparent that her health would continue to deteriorate if she continued to work with AUSTIN and MALUF, and that KIRKS would not take any action to address AUSTIN's unethical conduct, Plaintiff resigned.

VI. CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

PLEASE NOTE THE TITLE VII CAUSES OF ACTION DO NOT APPLY TO THE INDIVIDUALLY NAMED DEFENDANTS, BUT JUST THE CITY OF NEW YORK

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
SEXUAL HARASSMENT & HOSTILE WORK ENVIRONMENT
Violation of
Title VII, NYSHRL, NYCHRL

108. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and hereby incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.
109. Plaintiff repeatedly experienced unwanted touching from MALUF.
110. Plaintiff verbally told MALUF to stop touching her.
111. Plaintiff complained to staff and agency management.
112. Plaintiff complained to agency's EEO Office.
113. Upon information and belief, the individual Defendants directed and/or participated in and or were aware of and failed to take immediate and appropriate corrective action to prevent the discriminatory conduct alleged herein.

114. By the acts and practices described above, Defendants have violated Plaintiff's rights and forced her to work in a hostile work environment where she was repeatedly subjected to unwanted physical contact and retaliation.

115. Defendants acted intentionally and with malice and/or reckless indifference to Plaintiff's protected rights.

116. As a result, Plaintiff's health deteriorated, she was constructively discharged and forced to resign.

117. Defendant MALUF's sexual harassment is unlawful under Title VII, NYSHRL, NYCHRL, and Plaintiff is entitled to damages as a result.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
RACE DISCRIMINATION
Violation of
Title VII, 1981, NYSHRL, NYCHRL

118. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and hereby incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

119. Plaintiff is African American.

120. Plaintiff was qualified for her position.

121. Defendants MALUF and AUSTIN treated Plaintiff differently than the Caucasian employees they managed in terms of the allocation of overtime and training.

122. MALUF and AUSTIN would require Plaintiff to request overtime beforehand before approving training prior to the implementation of the unit's overtime policy. MALUF and AUSTIN did not require Caucasian employees in the unit to request overtime in advance prior to the implementation of the unit's overtime policy.

123. Defendants MALUF and AUSTIN paid Plaintiff less than her Caucasian comparators when she was hired despite having more professional experience.

124. By the acts and practices described above, Defendants have violated Plaintiff's rights on the basis of her race.

125. Defendants acted intentionally and with malice and or reckless indifference to Plaintiff's federally protected rights.

126. Due to the willful and deliberate actions of Defendants and as a proximate cause thereof, Plaintiff has been denied her right to equal employment opportunity.

127. Defendants actions described above directly and proximately have caused and continue to cause Plaintiff to suffer: loss of income, future pecuniary losses, losses to her pension, emotional distress, and deterioration of her health.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
RETALIATION
Violation of
Title VII, 1981, 1983 NYSHRL, NYCHRL

128. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and hereby incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

129. Plaintiff engaged in protected activities when she made multiple complaints of discrimination against MALUF and AUSTIN to the agency's EEO Office, MALUF, KIRKS and the EEOC.

130. Plaintiff made multiple complaints, and each instance she complained either within days, or weeks she experienced adverse employment actions. Not limited to the following, MALUF and AUSTIN: refused to pay her for work beyond her shift, changed her hours to a less desirable shift, denied her training opportunities, yelled at her on multiple occasions, attempted to bring her up on disciplinary charges, harassed Plaintiff about completing work before schedule and tried to force her to do work that was outside of her job description.

131. By the acts and practices described above, the individually named Defendants and CITY have retaliated against Plaintiff for engaging in protected activities in violation of Title VII, 1981, NYSHRL and NYCHRL.

132. By the acts and practices above, the individually named Defendants named individually and in their official capacities, retaliated against Plaintiff for engaging in protected activities in violation of 1983, NYSHRL and NYCHRL.

133. Due to the willful and deliberate actions of Defendants, and as a proximate cause thereof, Plaintiff has been and continues to be denied her right to equal employment opportunity.

134. Defendants' actions described above directly and proximately have caused and continue to cause Plaintiff to suffer loss of income, future pecuniary losses, emotional distress, loss of enjoyment of life, and health complications.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
RETALIATION
Violation of
First Amendment and 1983

135. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and hereby incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

136. Plaintiff engaged in protected activities when she complained that AUSTIN had instructed staff to hide documents pertaining to PSAC-1, PSAC-2 and FDCAD from DOI.

137. Plaintiff complaints about AUSTIN' directives were a matter of public concern. Between 2012 and 2016, the scandal surrounding the mismanagement of ECTP projects have been covered in the New York Daily News, the New York Times and multiple publications.

138. Additionally, Commissioner Roest has testified on multiple occasion in front of the City Council about the issues surrounding the ECTP, the failure to produce a working PSAC-2 and corruption allegations.

139. The ECTP has also been audited by Comptroller Liu and Mayor DeBlasio due to its ongoing misallocation of funds and failure to deliver a fully operational PSAC-2. A system which would provide a backup emergency response system should the PSAC-1 be struck during a terrorist attack or overwhelmed due to volume as was the case on September 11th.

140. As described herein, Plaintiff experienced retaliation immediately after she complained to DoITT management. After multiple complaints, Plaintiff was constructively discharged and resigned.

141. By the acts and practices above, the Defendants retaliated against Plaintiff for engaging in protected activities, in violation of 1983 and the First Amendment.

142. Defendants' actions described above directly and proximately have caused and continue to cause Plaintiff to suffer damages.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
MONELL LIABILITY
In violation of

143. Plaintiff hereby re-alleges and hereby incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

144. At all times alleged herein, the individually named employees and named Defendants were employed by CITY, acting on its behalf, and within the scope of their employment.

145. At all times alleged herein, the individually named employees and named Defendants failed to enforce the CITY's EEO Policy and Code of Conduct when Plaintiff complained about discrimination, her hostile work environment, cronyism, retaliation and corruption.

146. At all times alleged herein, the individually named Defendants and employees violated

Title VII, 1981 and the First Amendment when they retaliated against Plaintiff for her complaints.

147. Throughout Plaintiff's employ, Defendants executed official policies: where discrimination complaints were unaddressed; where employees were allowed to retaliate against other employees for engaging in protected activities with impunity; and where employees were also allowed to retaliate against employees for reporting corruption.
148. At all times alleged herein, the individually named Defendants possessed final decision making authority and were policymakers as defined by 1983 and the City Charter.
149. Defendants' actions described above directly and proximately have caused and continue to cause Plaintiff to suffer damages.

SIXTH CLAIM of RELIEF
AIDING, ABETTING AND INCITING
